Ryman Healthcare is one of Australasia's leading providers of retirement village living for people aged 70 and over. Our villages provide the full continuum of care, including independent living, assisted living in a serviced apartment and the very best of low care, high care and specialist dementia care.

With 32 friendly villages across New Zealand and Australia, 10,800 residents, and over 30 years' experience, Ryman have built an enviable reputation in the retirement sector.

The company has achieved this by remaining true to their philosophy that care is at the heart of everything they do, and in the words of Ryman's co-founder, Kevin Hickman, it must be "good enough for Mum."

Ryman's first Melbourne village, the popular Weary Dunlop village, is conveniently located next to Wheelers Hill shopping centre.

Ryman is currently selling independent and serviced apartments for its second Melbourne village, Nellie Melba, which is located directly behind Brandon Park shopping centre.

The company also has plans to build another six villages at Burwood East, Geelong, Coburg, Aberfeldie, Mt Eliza and Mt Martha.
